

Climate Change Law and Governance in South Asia

The IUCN Commission on Environment Law (CEL) in partnership with the Ministry of Environment and Forests, invites you to participate:

In this first of a series of dialogues beginning at New Delhi. The theme for the colloquium will be “Climate Change Law and Governance in South Asia – BRICs Law & Policy Dialogue on Climate Change and Biodiversity” to be held from August 20th - 21st, 2010.

The CEL, with this workshop, commences its initiative to prioritise Climate Change, Sustainable Energy and Biodiversity in Brazil, Russia, India and China. The workshop aims to facilitate a multifaceted discussion by bringing together local and international government agencies along with distinguished academicians. The dialogue hopes to inspire legal discussion within and between the BRICs countries.

The working language will be English.

Venue: Lecture Hall, India International Center ANNEX, Lodhi Estate, New Delhi – 110003.
